Questions/Comments

1. p. 24 What is a Marian consecration? Why is it important?
2. p. 26 Mary's mission is to make us holy. It's her mission to make us saints. How does she do this?
3. p. 249 What is the rosary and what is its purpose?
4. p. 166 What is the brown scapular and what is its purpose?
5. p. 169 Why is the miraculous medal important?
6. p. 69 Comment: Suffering, pain, sorrow, humiliation are kisses from Jesus. At times you come so close to Jesus on the cross, he can kiss you. Suffering is a gift from God. It is between you and Jesus alone.
7. p. 71 Comment: Mother Teresa says, " The devil may try to use the hurts of life and sometimes our own hurts to make us feel it is impossible that Jesus really loves us, is really cleaving to us. This is a danger for all of us which is so sad, as it is actually the opposite.
8. p. 78 Comment: St Mother Teresa did a daily examination of conscience. She followed the St Ignatious's examination who asked people to spend more time on the blessings of the day rather than a laundry list of sins. It's really an exercise in recognizing the good things God is doing in our lives and how we are or are not responding to how we are or not responding to His love.
9. p. 78 Comment: It's important to recognize God's blessings. Such heart - pondering prayer leads to praise and thanks. Then praise and thanks sets us on fire to divine love.
10. p. 90 Comment: Pope John Paul 11 says, " Mary's role is the ongoing work of salvation and is by far the most important. She has given such an important role not from some inner necessity from God, but from God's divine pleasure. We see God's generosity in including us in the work of redemption, the very same creatures he came to redeem.
11. p.127 Comment from St Max. Kolbe: Jesus, Mary, and the Holy Spirt are always united together in one movement "upward" to the Father, and whenever we turn to one of them, we join all of them in their one upward movement. In other words, they're not in competition; they don't take away from each other. Rather, they form a unity and work as a team - though with different roles -- to bring all back to the father.
